

INVITE LORI TO Facilitate

After three decades of facilitating quests in both personal and professional settings for young and old, Lori is thrilled to help parents and educators learn how to curate purposeful adventures to help children (and the adults in their lives) cultivate their imagination, sense of wonder, and belief in themselves.

Every talk and workshop is crafted like a mini-adventure designed to give the audience an experience they can take home to their families and classrooms.

Writing Adventures

MEET THE AUTHOR

Discover how storytelling and creative writing can enhance imagination, critical thinking, and agency.

Clutter-clearing Adventures

Uncover and eliminate the environmental and mental obstacles to your well-being and success.

Generational Adventures

Utilize a simple five-step approach to exposing and rewriting inherited limiting beliefs and stories for yourself and your children.

